MONTHLY NEWS LETTER

Hello! again Folks. As "Tatler" has thought it expedient that my identity should be disclosed, I want to point out from the beginning that any resemblance to any living person, is purely accidental.

By the time you get this issue, your new committee for the next twelve months will probably have been nominated, but I'm afraid my appeal for answers to the questionnaire last month has fallen on very barren ground. Do keep the necessity for new ideas before you, and remember that the Committee has been selected by you, so it's up to you to let them know what you want.

You will have noticed that numbers have increased during the past month, and we hope the improvement continues. There is one point I would like to mention with regard to rambles. I hope in future that we will be able to organise all rambles, but in the meantime I would suggest to leaders of "unofficial" rambles, that it would be a very good gesture on their part, to invite all members to take part, and not only the chosen few. All rambles could then be announced in the club room at St. Oswald's on Friday night, and would save a lot of the "careless talk" which is often floating around.

That's all for now. Oh by the way, I heard somebody in the clubroom say "Liverpool always seem to have a better team than Everton, I wonder why". Well I can't provide the answer, but maybe some of the members can!

Cheerio folks, and keep smiling!

THE EDITOR

"TATLER" TALKS

Interest seems to have reawakened of late, in the socials - probably all the restlessness caused by the holiday feeling has evaporated somewhat.

At the beginning of the month, one or two old friends paid us a visit. Frank King and his wife were among these - and I understand that they are going to make an effort to join us more frequently. Quite an example to some of us, as they have to come from St. Helens. Another welcome pair were Barney Devine and his wife, Frances (baby was left at home), on holiday from London. This paragraph could be a chronicle of names, as one or two demobs have also put in an appearance of late - Jim Brennan and Jim Murphy being a couple of them. Let 'em all come, and welcome. Brother Joe, brought Winnie Mulholland along a couple of nights - it's been a long time, Winnie, but it's good to see some of the earlier members looking in.

Miss Kelly seems to have had a busy time of late - as whenever I popped in, she seemed to be doing things to cups and teapots. This is a job that nobody likes, but it might be an idea if some of the regular attenders volunteered occasionally to lend a hand. Miss Jones would be only too pleased to rope 'em in, and initiate them into the mysteries of tea-making en masse.

I notice that the Editor mentioned the "personal touch" in his article last month, in respect to suggestions from "J.K. & S". Well, come to think about it, we of the newsletter contributors cannot preach on this subject, as we all hide our lights behind a bushel or so of drivel. (A wise move maybe in respect to the Hoving Reporter and myself) - but I wonder if the Editor would object to my disclosing his identity as Mr. Cyril Kelly! Perhaps this big-hearted disclosure may prompt some would-be writer to hand or post some little tit-bit to him for publication.

Perfumed satchets have been evident of late, as spot prizes - there should soon be an aroma of old world charm as a result of said lavender assets. As long as the ladies are content with just that, and don't decide to climb into crinolines to complete the effect, we'll all be happy.

As regards the dancing lessons, unless a deputy can be found I'm afraid that these can't be resumed, as Johnnie McCrorie has very important business to attend to, which will not permit of his appearing regularly at the club, for some time. I'm sure that among our dancers, there must be a couple who would be eager to help those not so efficient as themselves, if so, will they please offer their services.
